Village Nurseries Provides Jensen Landscape with Distinctive Plants for Commercial and Residential Landscapes in Northern California

ORANGE, Calif. & SAN JOSE, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Village Nurseries and the family of Jensen Landscape Companies have teamed up to supply, design and install four recent northern California landscape installations which run the gamut from commercial and residential to green roof and senior housing.

According to Adam Lambre, Jensen's plant purchasing specialist, Village Nurseries was chosen based on their high quality, consistency of plant material, their vast and varied plant selection and perennially outstanding service.

"By having nurseries in both parts of the state, Village Nurseries was able to deliver the most prime plant material to Jensen at any given time of the year since they could pull from crops in southern California which has a much longer and more temperate growing season compared to northern California," Lambre explained.

The four Village Nurseries-supplied Jensen Landscape installations include:

- Hall Winery in Calistoga, California is in the heart of the Napa Valley. There is a multitude of highly scented lavenders, free flowing grasses and stout native California plants that fill and grace this multi acre property. The plants serve as a beautiful and soft frame of the many pieces of world class art work the dot the property serendipitously.
- Blossom Cove is a beautiful residence featuring a newly built craftsman home located in Pebble Beach, California overlooking fluid and dynamic Monterey Bay. The plants are quite varied in type and color and range from natives to succulents. There are also many heritage oak trees that hang with Spanish Moss that give shade to the vast property.
- The Levi's® Stadium green roof in Santa Clara is a 20,000 square foot patch work of geometrical shapes and plant colors that tops the newly built stadium that is often seen from the Goodyear Blimp on any given game day. The plants chosen also have to withstand the rigors of wind and heat that affect the garden.
- Stoneridge Creek Community is an upscale senior housing development with a wide variety of plant material that includes natives, evergreens, many different perennials and a mix of colorful annuals.

"Village Nurseries consistently supplies Jensen with great plant material that makes our projects stand out from many others with consistent quality, dependable and stellar service, with an excellent attitude of always willing to help in an expedient manner,” Lambre added. “We are proud to be associated with this company.”
