

Village Nurseries Showcases New Plant Introductions for Landscape Architects at ASLA 2017

October 20, 2017 07:04 AM Eastern Daylight Time

LOS ANGELES--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Village Nurseries, a specialty grower for landscape professionals, re-wholesalers and retailers, will feature the world's first dwarf Jacaranda (Jacaranda 'Sakai01' Bonsai Blue PPAF) and many of its newest plant introductions at the 2017 ASLA National Conference and Expo opening here today at the Los Angeles Convention Center.

As a specialty grower, Orange, Calif.-based Village Nurseries offers the variety, the quality and the depth of product demanded by landscape architects who are seeking a wide breadth of trees and shrubs, many of which are patented or exclusive and not readily available at other wholesale nurseries.

The company's exhibit in Booth #260 includes Village Nurseries-grown Monrovia's Distinctively Better® plants, known for their extremely high quality and unique diversity, as well as Anthony Tesselaar's Flower Carpet® roses and the Sunset Western Garden Collection™, part of its licensing agreement with Plant Development Services, Inc.
